

Auli Toom & Viv Ellis

Research and Learning to Teach: Four New Teachers Tell Their Stories

Four New Teachers

Guro Foslie

David Andreas Swan

Anne Glimsdal Midtun & Stine-Mari Flikki

- will give short presentations about their master theses and discuss how engaging in this research prepared them for teaching and influenced their practice

Core Themes of the Session

- The main aspects of the Master Thesis in teacher education
 - Support and supervision in the Master Thesis process
 - Learning experiences during the Master Thesis process
 - The benefits (or pitfalls) of the Master Thesis for teacher's work
-

Question

What was the most important thing you learnt from – through your Master Thesis for your practical teacher's work?

Why?

Question

What kind of advice would you give for teacher educators in order to succeed in implementing Master Thesis in new teacher education programmes?

Questions from the Audience?

